BHI Senior Living Communities Honor Resident Veterans This Veterans Day

BHI Senior Living will honor the service and sacrifice of its resident veterans with two days of Veterans Day celebrations on November 10 and 11, spanning communities in three states. From brick dedications and flag raisings to concerts, slide shows, and receptions, each campus is planning a meaningful tribute to the men and women who served our country.

Honoring those who have served is a long standing tradition across BHI Senior Living. Each year, BHI supports its communities in recognizing resident veterans through ceremonies, lasting memorials, and opportunities for residents, families, and team members to come together in gratitude.

“Our resident veterans answered the call to serve, and it is our privilege to honor them,” said John Dattilo, President and CEO of BHI Senior Living. “Veterans Day is a chance for our entire BHI family to say thank you, not just with words, but by showing up, listening to their stories, and making sure every veteran in our communities knows how much their service matters.”

Across the BHI family, communities are recognizing hundreds of resident veterans. Other communities will gather for ceremonies, music, prayer, and fellowship. Celebrations will include patriotic performances, guest speakers, receptions, photo displays, and recognition programs, giving residents, families, and team members the chance to thank veterans in person.

For BHI, honoring veterans extends well beyond a single date on the calendar. Their stories of courage, sacrifice, and service are woven into the life of every community, and they continue to inspire residents and team members alike. As celebrations unfold across three states this November, BHI invites its communities, families, and neighbors to join in a simple but powerful message to every resident veteran: thank you for your service. We are proud to call you home.
